FOR OUR FUTURE STUDENTS

Practice during studies

A unique combination of theory and practice is the concept of teaching that is realized at FINra.

FINra pays special attention to practice and practical training of students. All students of FINra during their studies do internships in companies with which FINra has signed a Business Agreement cooperation, and there are over 250 such, both private and public companies.

In this way, students gain practical experience, as well as knowledge and skills that are acquired at FINra, applied and supplemented by work in practice. This concept of practical training of students is extremely successful and provides results, which is confirmed by the fact that all our graduates are employed.

FOR OUR FUTURE STUDENTS

Realization of classes

The teaching process is realized according to the combined model: inclass and online - DL.

The teaching process is realized according to the combined model: inclass and online - DL. All lectures and exercises are recorded live and stored on the platform within 24 hours on platform E-teaching. In this way, students who are employed or dislocated can continuously monitor classes. A review of the material on E-learning is available 24/7 throughout the academic year.

In order to improve the quality of the teaching process, FINra established a new teaching concept, INTERACTIVE and INDIVIDUAL approach to the student. The concept of interactive and individual approach is based on the application of innovative methods and techniques during teaching, and with the goal of more efficient transfer of knowledge and skills to students.

A very important segment for the establishment of this concept is the equipment in the cabinets which is state-of-the-art IT equipment, including an audio/video solution system. All classrooms at FINra are equipped with smart boards of the latest generation, which enable better connectivity and interaction in the "professor-student" relationship.

The classrooms for conducting practical classes additionally have computers on which are installed programs for accounting and financial operations, programming, as well as others programs (SPSS statistical program, programs for decision-making methods and techniques).
